

FALLINGWATER & KENTUCK KNOB

October 21, 2010

Celebrate masterworks of architect Frank Lloyd Wright and enjoy lunch at an historic inn! During this lovely tour to the Laurel Highlands in western Pennsylvania, you will explore both Fallingwater and Kentuck Knob, and eat at The Summit Inn, a mountaintop landmark with amazing views. It's a delightful day!

Motoring west through a lovely autumn landscape, arrive at Fallingwater in Mill Run, PA. Tour this celebrated home, which was designed by master architect Frank Lloyd Wright for a Pittsburgh department store owner. Hailed in a poll of architects as "the best all-time work of American architecture," the amazing cantilevered structure incorporates a rushing waterfall, forming a magical union of nature and design. Not far away, enjoy lunch at The Summit Inn, a mountaintop landmark. This grand porch hotel, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, boasts panoramic views of five counties! In the afternoon, proceed to another Wright masterpiece, Kentuck Knob in Chalk Hill, which has been opened to the public by its current owner, an English lord. Tour the serene but spectacular structure, which was designed by Wright at age 86 (when he was also at work on Manhattan's Guggenheim Museum). Just beyond the back terrace of the house, which seems a natural part of its mountain setting, is a marvelous panorama of the Youghioghney River flowing through a mountain gorge. Return home from Kentuck Knob refreshed by man-made wonders in perfect harmony with stunning natural beauty. Expected arrival in New Cumberland is 9:20 PM, York 10:00 PM, Red Lion 10:30 PM. (lunch)
